

Medien und Kongresse

Internship (m/f) in the field of Event Management

EW Medien und Kongresse GmbH is Germany's leading information specialist for the energy and water industry. With up to 450 events annually, ranging from small seminars to conferences with 1,300 participants, EW-Medien supplies the energy industry with the most up-to-date knowledge. Our portfolio also includes well-established professional journals as well as a large selection of specialized books.

Due to our close relations with the German Federal Association for Energy and Water (BDEW – Bundesverband der Energie- und Wasserwirtschaft), we can react very quickly to new political and legal developments regarding the industry. Our conferences are used by the association as a medium of communication. Our team is always up-to-date, discovering the latest developments and trends in the energy industry and eager to pass on this new knowledge throughout the energy industry through our conferences and seminars.

Your role and opportunity

The internship will be in our Event Management Department (Frankfurt or Berlin) for a period of at least three months, ideally from September 2012.

Our goal is to further strengthen and expand our position internationally. To ensure this, we will be creating new events which will not only include new topics and be presented in new formats, but will also aim at new target audiences. You will actively participate in these new developments. You will also complete a full project for these new sectors during your internship. Mainly you will help in creating a usable market analysis of your home country and so contribute to our strategic business expansion.

We offer you the chance to play an active role in one of our events and to gain a deep insight into the event industry.

Your profile:

- Very good MS Office skills
- Good German language skills
- Team spirit, flexibility, high motivation
- Good communication skills
- Good level of numeracy
- Experience in research
- Experience in the energy sector preferred
- Fields of study: business studies, public relations, event planning, event marketing

Interested?

If so, please send us your application (German or English cover letter, German or English CV, references) to bewerbung@ew-online.de indicating your earliest start date and salary expectation.

Company info:

EW Medien und Kongresse GmbH
Ms. Esra Güner
Kleyerstr. 88
D-60326 Frankfurt am Main

Wissen ist unsere Energie.